

NEURO-SEMANTICS TRAINERS' TRAINING

Dr. L. Michael Hall's WorldTour Training – Rio de Janeiro

NEURO-SEMANTICS TRAINER CERTIFICATION

The Psychology of APG - (3 Days)
As a Neuro-Semantic Trainer, you will be licensed to train and certify APG (Accessing Personal Genius, also titled, Coaching Genius or Self-Leadership). To support this, The Psychology of APG is designed to give you background understanding for what the patterns are designed to do, how to think about the patterns and how to use them with more depth. Via the Psychology of APG you will also be more equipped as you do your presentations in NSTT. (Days 1-3)

Training Skills Training - (3 Days)
Then there are three days of skills that make you effectively competent in training. Training skills differ significantly from presentation skills. These skills enable you to work effectively with adult learners enabling them to gain the theoretical knowledge necessary for the how-to knowledge of implementation. Many public speakers are charismatic, even magical, but cannot transfer data so that it actually in-forms the minds, hearts, and actions of people. That's what a Neuro-Semantic Trainer does! (Day 9-11)

Platform Skills Training - (5 Days)
These five days introduce the key specific skills that empowers every effective public speaker. We have benchmarked these skills so that you will be able to identify where you are on the scale of competency and what are the skills to add, or subtract, to take you to the next level. These are the skills that make you an engaging speaker who can command the stage and work with an audience. (Days 4-8)

Business Skills Training - (3 Days)
Trainers are in business, publically and privately within various companies and corporations, so they need business and entrepreneur skills for running a training business, administrating it, marketing, selling, etc. Business skills and strategies are also delivered to empower Trainers in the ins-and-outs of the Training business, especially in the business of Neuro-Semantics. (Day 12-14)
